

Rosalyn Metz - BIO

Rosalyn Metz is a strategic leader in academic libraries and technology, bringing over 20 years of experience in digital transformation, open access, and user-centered services. As Associate University Librarian for Library Technology and Digital Strategies at Emory University, she has led initiatives that enhance research, accessibility, and community engagement. Committed to equity, diversity, and inclusion, Rosalyn has fostered inclusive workplace cultures and strengthened global library collaborations. Passionate about the future of libraries, she is dedicated to advancing open knowledge, fostering collaboration, and driving impactful innovation in academic institutions.